Description

OffWorld's unique Aurora Series of modular practice pads and accessories with the exclusive magnetosphere core gives you the flexibility of adaptation.

All of the Aurora Series Puck accessories are interchangeable with the Visitor and Darkside pads giving you the ability to create a pad that fits your needs.

Order a pre-configured setup, or order just the pad and custom design your own.

Snare Puck: A fully adjustable snare sound with as much or as little "sizzle" as your ear desires, and has a more musical tone than the rocky "crunch" of the Aurora Shaker.

1/4-20 Puck: This puck allows for connection to any 1/4-20 stand for a quick stable platform for your Aurora Series practice pad. A quick TWIST unlocks the hold and lets you take your pad with you while the puck remains attached to the stand. The puck also features a neoprene bottom, so that if you like the tone it produces but don't want to mount it, leave it inserted and it will sit nicely on any flat surface.

8mm Puck: This puck allows for connection to any 8mm threaded cymbal stand for a quick stable platform for your Aurora Series practice pad. A quick TWIST unlocks the hold and lets you take your pad with you while the puck remains attached. The puck also features a neoprene bottom, so that if you like the tone it produces but don't want to mount it, leave it inserted and it will sit nicely on any flat surface.

Sound Dampener Puck: Think quiet. The Dampener offers a bit more silence than no puck at all. Featuring a felt bottom, it will rest flat on any smooth surface.

Shaker Puck: The Shaker offers a bit more "crunch" than the Aurora Snare puck. The Aurora Shaker contains metal beads for a different sound. Think Maracca. You can even use it as one.

Knee/Thigh Mount: The knee/thigh mount is made with white birch, equipped with quick release leather straps, and utilizes ultra-strong magnets to "dock" with your Aurora series pad. The mount is big enough to fit comfortably across your knee or thigh, yet it is small enough to tuck away when you are a drummer "on the go"!

Base Station.(Visitor only):Making a small practice pad sometimes comes with a price. The lighter and smaller it is, the more it moves around when playing on the kitchen table. Welcome to the Base Station. The magnetic center allows your Visitor to dock securely to this incredibly stable 3 lb. wood platform. With its non-skid neoprene bottom, the Base Station will stay where you put it, and at only 12 inches in diameter, it can easily sit atop your snare.
