Description

The OffWorld Outlander series is perfect for the traveling player seeking a more portable and budget-conscious entry into the OffWorld Percussion universe. The series features their signature DarkMatter surface and a firm non-slip neoprene bottom that is stiff enough to use as a quiet option for late night sessions.

Available in two sizes, the small Outlander measures 9.5" in diameter and weighs just under 2 pounds, perfect for the middle schooler or anyone with an eye on ultra-portability. While the large Outlander measures 11.5" in diameter and weighs just about 3 pounds, the perfect balance between size and function. Both models feature a low profile, bright red-rimmed edge and are also available with a Vinyl/Mylar Laminate surfacing. (VML)

This listing is for the Small 9.5" Practice Pad.
