Description

The JGPercussion DH8 David Herbert "Haydn" Timpani Mallets feature carbon fiber (graphite) shafts with soft chamois leather over a wood core. This is a hard stick with a clean attack for extremes in articulation, perfect for Baroque music, or the music of Bach, Haydn or Mozart. Works well as a substitute for wood sticks on plastic heads, and the chamois leather eliminates unwanted contact sound.

"The most articulate mallet available and a perfect substitute for wood mallets, especially on modern instruments. Conductors love these mallets." - David Herbert

Each stick is 14.5 inches long (37cm) and has a slight taper from the handle to the head of the mallet.
