Description

The Latin Percussion LP221B Conga Skin is a flat 20" buffalo skin that can be used to tuck your own conga heads. This item is just the skin and does not include a felsh hoop. This is perfect option for the DIY conga player or if you have a unique conga that a stock head will not fit. For best results, use the flesh hoop on your current drum to mount this head to. Feel free to contact us with questions about tucking your own head.
