Description

The Innovative Percussion Chris Lamb CL-BD5 “Little Igor” Bass Drum Mallet is a little monster that mixes everything from the “Big Beater” and “Igor” and steps out on its own with a tapered handle to add quickness to the stroke and a smaller, yet harder core with a black felt finish.

The Chris Lamb bass drum mallets line has been engineered carefully with weight distribution thoughtfully considered. Some are designed to be nimble in the hand and snappy off the drum while others are intended to allow a lingering weight at impact. In all cases, they will address the feel you are looking for and the sounds you are imagining.
